Reflecting on our week with international visitors

Last week, we had the pleasure of hosting Henk Janssen, Chris van den Borne, and Chris Opschoor from the Netherlands. Their visit provided our team with valuable technical support, as well as opportunities for knowledge sharing and collaboration with various partners.

Their hands-on approach and expertise helped us tackle challenges, improve practices, and explore new ways to enhance the efficiency of Topigs Norsvin genetics. The interactive sessions were not only insightful but also practical, giving our team fresh perspectives and skills we can apply moving forward.

A big thank you to Henk, Chris vdB, and Chris O for their time and dedication. This experience has reaffirmed the importance of global partnerships in driving progress in our industry.
